OTHER:

The Oceanis 46.1 ushers in a new era in the world of large cruisers, offering an exceptional blend of elegance, spaciousness and performance. Its stepped hull not only provides excellent seakeeping qualities, but also allows for surprisingly spacious interior volumes. Thanks to its multiple, ingenious and fully customisable layouts, it offers effortless sailing and a particularly appealing level of comfort.

EXTERIOR DESIGN

Designed by Finot-Conq, the Oceanis 46.1 features the distinctive stepped hull inherited from the 51.1. This design optimises both sailing performance and interior space, making the most of the cockpit's beam. Safety and ease of use are enhanced by a deck designed for intuitive and efficient manoeuvring. The furling mast, self-tacking jib and the centralisation of halyards and sheets on a single winch at the helm greatly facilitate manoeuvres, even with a small crew.

INTERIOR DESIGN

The large hull portholes flood the interior with natural light right to the heart of the boat, enhancing the elegance of the spaces designed by Nauta Design.
